TABLE OF CONTENTS

Chapter Two: Marcin KAFAR, Biographical Epiphanies in the Context of Laying the Foundations of the Qualitative Thought Collective ................. 43

Chapter Three: Michał WRÓBLEWSKI, Living in Relations: Biographies of Scientists in the Context of the Actor Network Theory ..................... 75

Chapter Four: Magdalena MATYSEK-IMIELIŃSKA, Thinking—Commitment—Assimilation: Biographical Themes in the Sociology of Zygmunt Bauman ............................................................................................... 103

Chapter Five: Marcin KAFAR, Michel Foucault as a Heterotopia .......... 121

Chapter Six: Marcin M. BOGUSŁAWSKI, Monika MODRZEJEWSKA-ŚWIGULSKA, Do ‘Professional’ and ‘Non-Professional’ Dimensions of Biography Really Exist? Deliberations Based upon The Autobiographical Novel by Michał Głowiński: A Reflection Written for Two Voices ................. 139

Chapter Seven: Marta SONGIN-MOKRZAN, Ethnographic Experience and the Politics of Situatedness ................................................................. 165

Chapter Eight: Aneta OSTASZEWSKA, From the Point of View of a Woman: Autobiographical Context of Feminist Studies ........................ 179

Chapter Nine: Łukasz M. DOMINIJK, Biographical Self-monitoring as a Condition of Reflexive Sociology and Anthropology: Towards Practical Epistemology of Social Sciences ................................................ 197

Notes on Contributors .............................................................................. 205